Don't Wait Until It's Too Late!

If your spouse is at the Point of No Return, sending flowers, cards, and apologizing just won't work. In your spouses' mind, "it's too little, too late. If you could have changed, you would have."

The ONLY way to get through to your spouse now is to SHOW (not tell) him/her that things will be different this time around. And to do that, you need to eliminate your negative feelings.

Here's why...

Right now, you're filled with a mixed-bag of negative emotions. You're anxious, uneasy, worried, depressed, angry and even resentful that your spouse wants to tear your family apart through divorce.

And you know what? Your spouse can FEEL this. Even if you try your hardest to "fake it till' you make it", your efforts to remain positive can come off as phony or insincere to your spouse – making things even WORSE.

Think about it this way. What if you could eliminate all those negative feelings – the moment they appear – and REPLACE them with a positive outlook on life?

- Instead of feeling anxious, you feel a genuine sense of CALM...
- You no longer feel uneasy and worried because YOU are no longer a pinball, bouncing off every event that happens in your life. You and you ALONE control how you feel 24 hours a day...
- You don't feel depressed and angry because you no longer feel like a helpless bystander while your spouse walks out of your life...
- Resentment is a thing of the past because you've made the DECISION to win over your spouse once again. But this time is different; you have a PLAN.

That plan is exactly what my Environment Changer students follow each and every day to bring their spouse back from the Point of No Return. By transforming themselves from the inside out, they are able to successfully influence their spouse and win them over once again.
